ALKARAH Quality AKC German Shepherd Dogs

<http://www.alkarah.com>

Alkarah breeds sound OFA certified German Shepherd Dogs with outstanding temperaments.

ALKARAH Quality AKC German Shepherd Dogspolice K-9 units. The majority of the puppies bred at Alkarah are sold as pets, but over the years numerous Alkarah dogs have achieved advanced obedience titles. They have also become search and rescue dogs, forensic recovery dogs, therapy dogs, and canine good citizens, while others have been involved in agility, herding, tracking, schutzhund, and a number are working in police K-9 units. All the dogs at Alkarah that are kept for breeding or showing are x-rayed at six to eight months of age for their preliminary OFA evaluation, and then x-rayed again for permanent OFA certification when they are old enough. The puppies that are not show quality are sold only to good loving qualified pet homes. We are fortunate to have developed a reputation over the years for selectively breeding quality animals and enjoy a clientele who will wait for one of our puppies rather than go elsewhere. As an AKC licensed judge of German Shepherd Dogs, Karin attempts to select dogs that exhibit the same characteristics that we breed for - structurally correct German Shepherd Dogs with sound outstanding temperaments.
