GSRBC was founded in 2003.

German Shepherd Rescue of BC At GSRBC we all have one thing in common - we care deeply about animals and we are committed to relieving the pain of those that are suffering. The wider network of supporters, volunteers and fundraisers who help us in so many different ways share our passion and they form a vital part of the team: without them we could not save a single animal. Our small teams of people in different parts of the province are driven by the same determination. Vets, behaviour experts, animal rescuers and dogwalkers, fosters and kennel staff, fundraisers and volunteers, administrative staff and trustees - we are all working for a common cause. At GSRBC each individual has an important role to play in the charity's overall success. We all need the ability to be able to work and make decisions independently, but everyone must also be a teamplayer. We strive to communicate effectively with each other and share the highs and lows of our efforts to help animals. Sometimes it can be harrowing and heartbreaking work, but it is also often rewarding and uplifting. We all count ourselves lucky to be part of the GSRBC family and to be making a real difference to animals' lives.
