All our dogs come from excellent bloodlines that we have carefully researched.

Sprague's German Shepherds All our dogs come from excellent bloodlines that we have carefully researched. Remember that these dogs are also our companions so we do want the best! In most cases we have met all our dogs parents and/or their grandparents so this helps us even more in knowing what types of puppies will be produced. We have all our dogs hips x-rayed before breeding and we will only breed dogs clear of hip dysplasia. Our dogs are fed a high quality food and are supplemented with Ester C. They receive regular veterinary care and are all happy, healthy dogs and it really shows! How our puppies are raised Each of our litters are born in the house, usually in one of the bedrooms. This allows us to keep a close eye on mom and babies so we can make sure everyone gets fed, cleaned and stays warm and to make sure mom is recovering okay. It can be messy (we tarp the whole carpet down), pretty loud and we don't get much sleep for the first couple weeks but we love our girls and want to make sure they are comfortable and happy.
