Because of our love for this outstanding breed, we wanted to preserve and improve the qualities of the German Shepherd from the "old world" stock.

WindLaufer German ShepherdsWe chose to become Breeders of German Shepherds with European lineage. We are proud of our strict breeding standards and are always striving to learn more or better ways. The strength, loyalty, working ability, soundness of mind and body, courage and their keen sense of trouble, are among the list of things that made us love the German Shepherd Dog growing up and keeps us on our path now. With our goal upper most in our mind, we keep striving for the betterment and preservation of this wonderful breed, the German Shepherd Dog.Our German Shepherd puppies are born and raised right here in our home. They receive continous socialization and bonding given by our multitude of family members,grandchildren,my husband and myself. With such constant observation and interaction with the puppies, we come to know each puppy quite well. One thing is for sure, your new puppy has been loved and well cared for from the moment they were born.
