** ARCTIC WHITE** ALL PARENTS IMPORTED FROM EUROPE ****

The Home of Berger Blanc Suisse from Imported World Champion Lines After several years of research, I found what I was looking for in Europe, a new breed that has recently split from the German Shepherd breed, called "Berger Blanc Suisse" (White Swiss Shepherd). This breed has its own standard now with changes to the hip structure that go back to its natural state (standing naturally upright rather than with over-angulated hips common in today's German Shepherd). The dogs disposition has also changed to become more sociable with other dogs and animals. I am particularly impressed by how well this breed does with families, children and as a service and therapy animal. This breed is now internationally recognized by the FCI throughout the world. Currently, this breed is considered relatively rare in the US and therefore, not recognized by the AKC yet (there is a move underway to achieve recognition here also).
