Von Lousar Shepherds Von Lousar Shepherds Our breeding stock consist of only the finest german bloodlines. We find that the German showlines are the best dog suited for family companion / protector because they are very balanced in their drives. Meaning these dogs are generally calm and stable, easy to live with in the house, easy to train, willing to please and ready to defend. These German Shepherd have a very correct, harmonious and balanced structure resulting in a smooth, efficient, beautiful gait and very high endurance. We produce black/red and although our adults are short coated we still at times have long coats available. A good German Shepherd needs to be the "total package". Temperament, health, working ability, brains and looks. This is my goal, a dog that has it all. I look for correct but functional conformation. We offer German Import puppies!
