Top layer consists of a durable nonwoven fabric designed to uphold its strength when wet, thus eliminating any possibility for the fabric to fall apart
Second layer consists of an absorbent sheet that quickly soaks up the moisture from the pad surface thus allowing the surface to dry much quicker
Third layer consists of an advanced polymer core that works as a gel to further prevent moisture and odor
Bottom layer is a polyethylene plastic sheet that blocks moisture completely to prevent it from seeping onto floor surfaces
No more pet stains, no more pet odor, no more surprises
Paw Trax Super Absorbent Training Pads are perfect for potty training your new pup or as a protection pad for your longtime companion pet. Either way, these pads are a definite "must have" in the home for pet parents. Each pad is made up of 4 layers that work together to absorb more wetness and dry out faster. Tests show that the super absorbent gel in one pad will absorb up to 2 quarts of liquid. Plus, its quilted surface dries out faster than several of the leading brands. In addition, the plastic liner provides superior floor protection because not only will it not leak, it won't fall apart. The pad's super odor and wetness control allows for no tracks, no mess, no fuss. Paw Trax is also great to use while traveling with your pet, either on the road or by air. The pads are a definite must have during hotel stays and can be used with any airline-approved kennel. Product Description
