Our Code Amber Alertag brings the old Medic Alert Bracelets into the 21st Century by leveraging current technology to provide immediate life-saving medical information to First Responders at the scene of your medical emergency. By scanning the QR code on the back of the Alertag with a Smart Phone or a Handheld Scanner carried by First Responders, or entering your ten digit account code into our secure web site, life saving information about your medical conditions, treatments, allergies or afflictions becomes instantly available and is displayed on the scanning device. No third party involvement, as is required with the old Medic Alert Bracelets, is needed. Contact information for up to three individuals designated as your emergency contact(s) is also displayed with their name, phone number and email address to speed their notification about your situation and whereabouts. Communication with your contact(s) and information provided to the First Responder could very well save your life. Your information is secured by our triple protection protocol and stored using state-of-the-art data encryption the same as is used by the world's largest banks. You control what information is made available to First Responders. Access to additional information remains private until your PIN is provided by you or one of your emergency contacts to the medical personnel attending you. Any changes to your Confidential Personal Information requires your PIN and your secret password be entered into our heavily secured servers. Order your Code Amber Alertag today and enjoy the benefits and peace of mind of carrying it with you at all times. Your satisfaction is guaranteed 100% as with all GTX Corp products.
