My aim is to improve the white German Shepherd breed as much as I can, by taking my time and ensuring the puppies are healthy and happy.

Mountwhite German ShepherdsIn England, my first dog was a silver-coloured German Shepherd. I wanted to buy a white puppy from a mixed litter, but there were no white puppies available anymore, so I came away with a light sable dog! I love him very much but the white German shepherds were always on my mind and eventually I got one, called Kea, and everything started then. My aim is to improve the white German Shepherd breed as much as I can, by taking my time and ensuring the puppies are healthy and happy. All dogs are hip scored and health checked which gives an indication (but not a guarantee) that future hip problems are unlikely. All content of this listing belongs to the Owner in this Listing!
