A well-bred German Shepherd is the best canine companion a person can have.

The Haven Kennels Our Breeding Philosophy –The Haven Kennels primary breeding goal is to produce German Shepherds with sound and healthy confirmation; calm and stable temperaments; and high trainability for use as service dogs. The German Shepherd breed is highly suited for this work and German Shepherd puppies from Haven Kennels breeding excel in this type of training. We believe that a well-bred German Shepherd is the best canine companion a person can have. There are different types of German Shepherds, and these types are very much divided by their country of origin and the work that they were bred for. At Haven Kennels, we have taken what we consider “the best of both worlds” approach to breeding by combining AKC and West German Showlines. I feel that the AKC/GSDCA breeding practices have “Americanized” the dogs too much. It is my opinion that the AKC dogs are slighter in stature and more feminine looking but I also feel that the West German Showlines have carried the rear angulation too far producing a severely roached top line and over-angulated rear in some lines. Line breeding and occasional in-breeding in the AKC Show Line dogs has caused a number of health issues in the American dogs. Brienne of Tarth von Haven Taking all these things into consideration we have chosen to breed the best AKC lines, by thorough health, genetic and temperament testing, with specifically chosen West German Showline dogs exhibiting sound structure, excellent temperament and working capabilities. In the spring of 2016 we whelped an amazing litter of 10 puppies of outstanding quality proving that our breeding theories had merit. Our goal to produce a German Shepherd Dog with strength and beauty, coupled with a sound healthy body, stable temperament and high trainability has been achieved and now we will work to maintain this breeding standard. We feel we are producing the best German Shepherd for the average American family to own. Third-party logos and marks are registered trademarks of their respective owners. All rights reserved.
