Specializing in K9 Detection of Bedbugs

SoCal K9 Detection Here at SoCal K9 Detection we work day in and day out to create the highest level of accuracy in our dog/handler teams. We strive to detect as little as one single live bedbug in order to prevent infestations from occurring in your home, work place, hotel, cruise ships, hospitals, nursing homes, and more. We offer a dual dog/handler team for double verification and back with sight confirmation. By using a SoCal K9 bedbug Detection team your chances of finding bedbugs before there is a problem is much much greater than using sight only detection. Many studies have been done comparing detection accuracy of bedbug k9s vs highly trained pest professionals. Studies show k9 detection is in the ninety percentile (94%+) while trained pest professionals ranged in the twenty (20%) to forty (40%) percentile. University of Florida study comparing the accuracy of bed bug dogs against a trained technician shows that dogs were 96% accurate in finding bed bugs compared to 25% accuracy of trained pest professionals.
