Doing More than Keeping the Peace In any e-collar training program, your dog must understand that his/her actions lead to a reaction. NoBark collars apply a correction to your dog as soon as he starts barking. The more energy your pup expends barking, the less energy he/she has to apply to other activities, such as training, going the extra mile in the field, etc. Deterring your dog from barking fits will ensure you all get the most out of your time together. After your dog learns that this barking is inappropriate behavior, he will also have a chance to become comfortable with the sounds and sights of his surroundings, making him more at ease. Dog Training Benefits When bark-control collars came on the market, they solved a problem that most of us have experienced at one time or another: a dog that just won't be quiet. Most hunters are familiar with bark-control collars, the e-collars that automatically correct a dog when it barks excessively. But did you know that using a bark-control collar provides benefits that will help you make your dog a better hunter? A dog that has learned to respect its bark-control collar is calmer in the kennel, more responsive in the field, and easier to train. A dog that uses a bark-control collar doesn't break noise ordinances, leaving you with a hefty fine when your neighbors complain, waste energy barking, or cause other dogs to start barking. How does it work? The SportDOG NoBark 10R collar lets you customize the type of bark control that works best for your dog. Select from Temperament Learning, Progressive Correction or User-Selected Correction modes. Perfect Bark technology provides firm, fair and consistent bark control, requiring BOTH vibration AND sound to trigger a correction. The automatic safety shut-off eliminates the risk of overcorrection. Hear the quiet? SportDOG Brand. Gear the way you'd design it.
